CDM NEWSLETTER JULY 2013

General CDM Information

As announced in last month's CDM Newsletter, Frank McIntosh has been selected as the new FAA CDM Lead and Manager of CDM and International Operations here at the Command Center. Frank officially started his new role at the end of June.

On behalf of the entire CDM Community, we would like to welcome Frank to his new role and also thank Steve McMahon for the outstanding job he has done captaining the CDM ship over the past few years.

Mr. Frank McIntosh, FAA CDM Lead and Manager of CDM and International Operations

General CSG Information

The CSG is working on developing a governance concept in order to better direct the work of the sub-teams. The CSG is redeveloping a process where sub-team work is in line with CSG direction, but work is not handed off so prematurely that it loses focus.

The process for tasking teams needs to be known, to include the requirement that leadership needs to submit potential tasking to the CSG.

Lastly, the CSG would like to remind everyone that the End of the Season Review will be held at MITRE on October 29 through the 31. This will also be combined with the Fall CDM meeting. More details will be published as it becomes available. Please note that the date has changed from previously announced.

CDM Sub-team Updates

Flow Evaluation Sub-team (FET) – Telcons continue to be held to discuss the CTOP Scenario Evaluation task. Documentation associated with the task continues to be refined through these efforts.. More specifically, the team refined feedback on a scenario involving CTOP use to address convective activity in ZKC. The team is also coordinating efforts to have a meeting in the late September time frame.
